PUBLIQ users, easier to access your help center

As part of our transition, we're making it easier to access your help documents and our support team.

First, we've moved to Springbrook's phone system, allowing us to forward calls and messages more easily. You may have noticed some changes to the call system earlier this week, but any updates moving forward should be minor.

Second, the Hub support site will move to a website format where you only need a link—no sign-in will be required to access the new Help Center. Please visit your new Help Center and bookmark this page.

If you have any questions, please reach out to your representative or our Client Services team.

Cirrus Dashboard, General Ledger, Accounts Payable, and Mobile Workflows are now available! To learn more about these and other new Cirrus products please watch our recent Cirrus Webinar here.
